Module 3

The Safety Net Worksheet

Build your jealousy protocol and reconnection ritual. Your emotional insurance policy for when things get real.

📢 Part 1: The Code Word

Choose a word or phrase that means "I'm feeling jealous and I need reassurance." Something that doesn't sound dramatic but signals a check-in.

Our Code Word / Phrase

Examples: "Monkey," "Red light," "SOS," "Pineapple"

Our code word is...

When You Hear the Code Word

- [ ] Pause what you're doing immediately
- [ ] Reassure — genuinely, not defensively
- [ ] Don't say: "You're being ridiculous"
- [ ] Do say: "I hear you. I'm right here. What do you need?"

When You Say the Code Word

- [ ] Identify the specific fear: Am I being replaced? Do I feel left out? Is my ego hurt?
- [ ] Ask for what you need: "Can you text me when you're on your way home?" or "I need 10 minutes of just us."
- [ ] Don't weaponize it: The code word is for real feelings, not for control.

💡 Part 2: Know Your Jealousy Type

Understanding what kind of jealousy you tend to feel helps your partner respond better.

Fear of Replacement

"They're going to leave me for this person."

Partner A — How likely are you to feel this? (1 = never, 5 = often) 1-5

Partner B — How likely are you to feel this? 1-5

Fear of Missing Out

"They're having more fun than me."

Partner A — How likely? (1-5) 1-5

Partner B — How likely? (1-5) 1-5

Ego Jealousy

"I don't like the idea of someone else touching my partner."

Partner A — How likely? (1-5) 1-5

Partner B — How likely? (1-5) 1-5

💕 Part 3: Our Reconnection Ritual

Define exactly what happens after a date or experience with someone else. This is how you come back to each other.

What we do immediately after (within the first hour)

Examples: 10 minutes of cuddling, a shower together, cook a meal together

When one of us comes home from a date, we will...

When we talk about it

Examples: "Right away," "The next morning," "Only if I ask," "Never"

We debrief...

How much detail we share

Examples: "Everything," "Just the basics," "Only if asked," "Nothing"

We share...

Things we never want to hear about

Be specific — this prevents accidental hurt

We agree to never share details about...

🚨 Part 4: Emergency Stop

Define when and how you hit pause on the whole arrangement — no shame, no blame.

Our "Pause" signal

A phrase that means "I need us to stop everything and talk" — different from the jealousy code word

Our pause phrase is...

What happens during a pause

- [ ] All dates with others are cancelled immediately
- [ ] We schedule a dedicated conversation within 24 hours
- [ ] No decisions are made until both partners feel heard
- [ ] We revisit the Hard Limits Audit and Designer Relationship Worksheet
- [ ] We consider speaking with a therapist if needed

📝 Additional Notes

Anything else you want to add to your Safety Net...

Remember: The Safety Net isn't about controlling each other. It's about knowing that no matter what happens out there, you have a way back to each other.
